DOUBLE MURDER, BOMBING, IN CHICAGO LAST NIGHT

McREYNOLDS' CASE TO JURY AT NOON TODAY

Assault Trial Ended; Closing Arguments Were Bitter

Counsel for William McReynolds, Dixon Negro, charged with having committed the brutal assault upon Clarence Shults, night attendant at the Riverview garage on Sunday morning, December 8, carried their battle to the last in an effort to prevent investigator Ralph Russell's story of McReynolds' alleged confession being considered by the jury.

The defense rested its case at 2:30 and McReynolds asked the jury's permission to be heard in argument. He made a long speech, in which he attacked the testimony of Russell, and he argued that promises were made his client. His argument brought scathing remarks in which he told the court that Annanias could turn over in his grave were he to learn of Russell's testimony in the witness stand. "There is no other word in the English language which I have been able to find to better define Russell than that of liar," the Peoria attorney concluded.

Hunt Witnesses Tampering State's Attorney Mark Keller answered the argument in which he intimated that defense counsel had attempted to tamper with the state witnesses last Monday by asking one of them to forget parts of what he had originally testified to. "If I had done the thing that one of the defense counsel did or attempted to do in this case last Monday with the state's witnesses, I could seriously hesitate arguing before this court the virtues of honesty. No lower act could have been committed. Counsel who has just seen heard, an ex-state's attorney, as battled with crime and the underworld of Peoria and knows in that manner he secured his evidence in many cases."

In reply to the remarks from the County State's Attorney, McReynolds again referred to his own honesty and fairness with which he had conducted himself throughout the hearing and closed with another attack on the methods used in the case which he said:

"Never, from my knowledge of race, and I have had experience with hundreds, yes, thousands of cases, have I observed such tactics practiced outside of the city of Chicago, and tolerated as were in this case."

Motion Overruled With this parting shot, the Peoria attorney backed smilingly to his chair. Judge Harry Edwards did not wait for him to be seated before he announced that the motion of the defense was overruled and instructed the jury to return to the courtroom to hear the closing arguments. It was agreed that each side be permitted two hours and state's Attorney Keller opened with 30 minute review of the testimony. He was followed by Attorney Brooks, and during his discourse to the jury Judge Edwards found it necessary to warn the crowded courtroom against outbursts of laughter repeatedly. Attorney McReynolds completed his argument this morning and as followed by State's Attorney Mark C. Keller's closing remarks, which the instructions will be read by the court and the jury will retire to consider its verdict.

Judge Harry Edwards completed the reading of a long list of instructions to the jury at 12 o'clock this noon and the jury which for more than two days have heard testimony and statements concerning the brutal attack, on December 8, of last year, retired to consider their verdict. It was not expected that the jury would begin deliberations until after the lunch hour. The entire forenoon was taken up with the hearing of closing arguments. Attorney McReynolds who is leading a defense for McReynolds, who is charged with having committed the assault, addressed the jury for more than an hour this morning. He was followed by State's Attorney Mark Keller, who made the closing argument. The court room was again crowded to capacity this morning and any who could not find seats, filled the doorways in the hall, listening intently to the statements of the attorneys.

NAVAL MEASURE LEFT TO SPECIAL COMMITTEE TODAY

The Proposal Of Secretary Stimson Adopted At Naval Parley

London, Jan. 30—(AP)—The entire question of how to measure naval power—whether by total tons, or by tons in separate categories—a problem which has vexed naval limitation negotiations for years, was put today in the hands of a special committee by the London naval conference.

This plan of treatment was adopted on the motion of Secretary Stimson, American delegation head, at a full session of the conference permeated by a general willingness to compromise, but marked nevertheless by plain reiterations of divers national viewpoints.

The Secretary of State's proposal was accepted unanimously although Italy gave notice that she felt her claim for parity with France should have precedence, and that she would accept the decisions regarding limitation methods only on condition that she have a day in court later.

The Italian dissent was presented in pungent phrases by Dino Grandi, Italian Foreign Minister, known by everyone to speak the full determination of Premier Mussolini. He declared that while the whole parity question might be left aside, Italy was willing that the physical terms of limiting navies be considered.

In the end, therefore, Secretary Stimson's motion had a unanimous vote. The French compromise plan was presented by Andre Tardieu, the arrangement he proposed permitting shifting to a limited extent of tonnage from one class to another to satisfy national needs within the total tonnage allowed. Neither he nor any other of this morning's speakers mentioned any exact figures.

DEATH CAME TO PRIMATE AT HIS HOME

Was Head of Episcopal Church in America; Beloved By All

Chicago, Jan. 30—(AP)—Most Rev. Charles Palmerston Anderson, Presiding Bishop of the American Episcopal Church, died today.

Death occurred at 8:42 A. M., the result of a heart attack nine days ago from which the Bishop never rallied. He was 64 years old.

Bishop of the Chicago Diocese for a quarter of a century, he had been raised to the Primacy of his church only two months ago. His health had been apparently good, despite a weak heart, until the fatal attack Jan. 21, a few days after Bishop Anderson had returned from an eastern trip.

Family at Beside. Mrs. Anderson and their four daughters were called to the bedside when death was seen approaching early this morning.

The passing of the Episcopal Primate leaves his church without a head and his Diocese without Bishop or Coadjutor Bishop. An election of Coadjutor Bishop who would one day succeed Bishop Anderson was formally called only yesterday, scheduled for the Diocesan convention here next Tuesday.

A special meeting of the House of Bishops will be necessary to choose a new Presiding Bishop, since no provision is made for an automatic succession.

Elevated Last Nov. Bishop Anderson had been elected at such a meeting last Nov. 13 in Washington, after the death of Most Rev. John Gardner Murray on October 3. He assumed his duties immediately and plunged forthwith into the strenuous double duties of presiding over Diocese and church at large.

Funeral services are to be conducted at St. James Cathedral Saturday morning at 10:30. Who will officiate has not been determined, nor has the place of burial been chosen.

Apostle of world peace and church unity over a span of nearly a half century, Most Rev. Charles Palmerston Anderson was destined to stand at the head of his denomination in the United States only two months. His election to the Primacy in November, 1929, crowned 43 years of (Continued on Page 2).

SOUTH SHIVERS UNDER BLANKET OF DEEP SNOW

Sub-Freezing Weather Throughout Dixie Breaks Record

Atlanta, Jan. 30—(AP)—Chilling winds which sifted snow and churned up gales along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts brought winter to the south again today.

Small buildings were unroofed in Mississippi and as the cold wave swept eastward snow reached a depth of nearly nine inches at Bristol, Va. A tornado dipped down into two central Florida counties, killed a Negro woman and tore at residences before passing out into the Atlantic.

Off Wilmington, N. C., rough seas buffeted a tug boat carrying seven men for twelve hours before the craft reached a village south of that city. Three Negro fishermen were believed to have drowned when their schooner capsized off the Mississippi coast. The boat was located but no trace of the crew was found.

A one day fall of three and a half inches of snow in Atlanta broke a record of 13 years standing. The white flakes fell in Vicksburg, Miss., covered the ground at Birmingham, Ala., and blanketed Johnson City, Tenn., with eight inches. A six inch snow he'd a bus party of 100 at Franklin, N. C. Snow accompanied high winds throughout Virginia.

Sub-freezing temperatures were the rule in Dixie last midnight and continued cold was forecast today with a slowing rising mercury tomorrow.

MENDOTA M. E. MINISTER IS UNDER ARREST

Church Gossip Concerning Letter Blamed For Shooting

Mendota, Ill., Jan. 30—(UP)—Church gossip that sped from tongue to tongue, gaining details with each retelling, was blamed today for the wounding of three persons, a minister, the church janitor and the latter's wife.

Goaded by the gossip, the Rev. J. A. Wilson, a Methodist minister, went to the home of the janitor, Amos Elliott, last night and demanded a letter which he said was the foundation of the rumors connecting his name with that of a widow. The minister accused Mrs. Elliott of circulating the letter.

Elliott at first surrendered the letter but then lunged at the preacher in an attempt to get it back. According to the story told to Mendota police, the Rev. Wilson then fired at Elliott, wounding him in the side. Mrs. Elliott, who went to the aid of her husband, was shot in the breast.

Believing the janitor and his wife dead, the Rev. Wilson went home and prepared to commit suicide. As he gave Mrs. Wilson her final instructions, a knock sounded at the front door. The Rev. Wilson peered through a window and saw the Mendota Chief of Police. Hastening back to a table the minister seized his pistol and fired five times at his head.

When the Chief of Police entered the Rev. Wilson was slightly wounded, the bullets having glanced off. All three of the wounded persons will recover.

Farmer Was Pinned Under Straw Stack

Anthony Halbmeier, residing a mile west of West Brooklyn, had a narrow escape from smothering to death Monday while at work dismantling a straw shed at his farm when a heavy timber in the structure collapsed and the straw stack fell over on him, pinning one arm beneath the heavy timber. Fortunately his head was not covered but was near the heavy timber which formed an air space. His calls for aid were heard by Mrs. Halbmeier who summoned neighbors and residents of West Brooklyn. Arriving at the Halbmeier home, the men worked for almost half an hour in extricating the farmer, who suffered no other injuries than a badly bruised arm.

She was alleged to have been living with Gerald E. Bothwell until recently and in the action brought against her, it is said to have signed her name as Mrs. Zona Bothwell. Bothwell, who was questioned by the police in the state's attorney's office at the court house yesterday, is said to have left the city suddenly.

BODY OF DIVER, TRAPPED SINCE MONDAY, RAISED

Two Men Risked Lives To Bring Body To Surface Today

Montreal, Que., Jan. 30—(AP)—A telegram received here today announced that the body of Peter Trans, diver, who had been trapped 20 feet under water at the plant of the Ontario Paper Co. at Riviere Aux Outardes since Monday morning, was brought to the surface at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

The telegram received at the company's offices here said: "The body of Peter Trans was brought to surface 7:30 this morning. Doctors now examining body."

Trans had been under the icy waters of the Outarde river since Monday morning, a period of almost 72 hours when the two divers, who had flown there from Montreal, brought his body to the surface today.

A laborer, volunteering as a diver, yesterday had reached Trans' body and grasped his hand. He said there was no response and hope was practically abandoned then that the man was alive.

The two divers who brought the body to the surface risked their own lives in the effort. Conditions were such that they had been warned against descent, but they decided to take the risk.

CITY EMPLOYEES EVICTED FROM HOME IN CHICAGO

Unable To Pay Rent As City Fails To Pay Their Salaries

BY MERTON T. AKERS (United Press Staff Correspondent) Chicago, Jan. 30—(UP)—Unpaid for a month and a half, some of the 40,000 employees of Chicago and Cook county faced eviction from their homes today because they couldn't raise rent money.

Landlords have gone into court seeking to put 11 families into the snow-covered streets. Reluctant judges were forced to grant several eviction orders despite their feelings but the rest of the cases were continued to state of action as long as possible in hopes some solution of Chicago's debt tangle will result in pay for the workers who carry on despite their poverty.

One city employee, Mrs. Louis Moglepsky and her four children, were ordered to vacate a flat because she had no money for rent and no prospects of getting any until millions have been raised and poured in the treasury. Joe Thompson, a school janitor, was ordered out of his $20-a-month room. His salary of $127 for January remains unpaid and there is no cash in the school treasury, either for salaries or coal.

Two Rays of Hope Two rays of hope for a least temporary relief from the load of almost $300,000,000 in debts that amounts daily filtered through the gloom in an announcement that Governor L. L. Emmerson will confer late today with members of the Chicago and Cook county tax boards and a veiled announcement from Silas Strawn, head of the "rescue committee," that "something may be done for the county in a day or two."

The Governor is reported to be seeking the facts in all three financial tangles, city, county and school. Whether he would listen to the city's troubles until some definite legislative relief plan is advanced remained problematical. The 20-month delay in collecting taxes in Cook county has resulted in withholding funds from the State Treasury and it was presumed the Governor had that in mind in calling the conference.

Strawn returned to Chicago yesterday from Washington but the long awaited plans of the "rescue committee" were not forthcoming as harassed city and county officials had hoped and predicted. Strawn left with the ultimatum that no money would be advanced by the committee until it was assured cooperation by public officials and promised a voice in expenditures.

Freighter Afire, Races Toward Port Tokio, Jan. 30—(UP)—The freighter Aden Maru, outbound from San Pedro, wireless today that she was afire and was speeding for Yokohama, with hope of arriving safely at that port.

Checker Taxi Official And Driver Shot $100,000 Damage In Bombing; Gangster Is Ambushed

Chicago, Jan. 30—(AP)—A night of violence that began with a gangster ambush, came to a $100,000 bombing and carried on a tragic end today with a double murder.

The bomb explosion — the most terrific in the memory of police — wrecked a large one story brick building housing a wholesale grocery company on the northwest side. Eight persons were injured and buildings for blocks around were damaged.

Shortly afterward Johnny Genaro, pal of gang lords and with a reputation of his own, stepped from a club on the edge of Chicago's Chinatown—Wentworth and 23rd—into a two man ambush and was shot probably fatally. The men stood within three or four feet of him, took careful aim and emptied their revolvers. They drove away in a small car as Genaro lay unconscious in the street.

Taxi Official Killed

The Rogers Park residential section became the scene of the night's most appalling crime. Barney Mitchell, treasurer of the Checker Taxicab Company, and George Jackson, a cab driver for the company, were found shot dead in Jackson's car at the intersection of Farewell Avenue and Ridge Boulevard.

Several bullets had been fired into Mitchell's body, which lay sprawled grotesquely upon the rear seat Jackson was shot as he sat at the wheel, a bullet entering his head behind the right ear. The door by his side was partly open and his left leg was about to step from the machine.

Police had slight clues to any of the crimes. The bombing followed the receipt of letters demanding money under threats of death. The case of Genaro, detectives said, he had so many enemies "it is hard to say which of them might have tried to kill him."

TAXI MURDER DETAILS

Chicago, Jan. 30—(AP)—A taxicab stood in the center of Ridge Boulevard early today, its motor idling its lights burning. Inside were the bodies of two men.

In the rear seat, reserved for passengers, was the body of Barney J. Mitchell, treasurer of the Checker Taxicab Company. He had been shot several times, just how many a cursory examination did not reveal.

In the driver's seat, slumped over the wheel, was George Jackson 28. The door by his side was open, and his left leg was part way out as though he had been about to leap from the machine. A bullet had been fired into his head behind the right ear, and another had grazed his scalp. The weapon had been pressed against the head as the trigger was pulled, police said.

Mitchell was 32 years old and married. He was recently re-elected treasurer of the cab company. The "rescue" is cooperative, with all drivers owning their own cabs and voting at the elections. In other years, on occasion, the voting has been accompanied by bitter strife but the last one was unusually quiet, police recalled. They inclined to seek a motive for the double killing elsewhere.

Called Officers

Two Evanston residents, driving home, came upon the cab at the intersection of Farewell Avenue and Ridge Boulevard. A block south they had been passed by a south-bound touring car travelling at high speed. The position of the cab in the center of the boulevard, with the driver's door partly open and with the engine going, aroused their suspicions. Without investigating, they drove at once to the Rogers Park police station, and returned with officers to discover the bodies.

Detectives said the murders undoubtedly were executed by two men who probably were fellow passengers with Mitchell. There were no bullet marks to indicate that any shots were fired from the outside. Accounting for the fact that the car had stopped, officers suggested that one of the passengers had indicated he would get out at the corner. Officers said one man would hardly have been quick enough to have shot both men in the manner in which they were killed. They believed the speeding motorcar (Continued on Page 2).

DEATH CAME TO PRIMATE AT HIS HOME

church service and 25 years as Bishop of the Chicago diocese. During those years he forged into world prominence as an advocate of Christian unity and as a builder.
Evidence of Bishop Anderson's success stands in more than half a hundred new churches and as many new rectories and parish houses; an increase from 90 to nearly 140 in the number of priests canonically connected with the diocese and more than double the number of communicants. Total contributions to all church purposes from his diocese increased more than fourfold.
Had Wide Interest
Being keenly interested in Christian unity, Bishop Anderson also played an important part in the work of the National church. He was president of the commission on the World Conference on Faith and Order and in 1919 made an extended tour of Europe and the Near East in the interest of the conference. He conferred with officials of other Christian bodies regarding the plan and on his return made an exhaustive and encouraging report of the sympathetic interest shown almost everywhere.
Bishop Anderson was known as a builder and organizer and a man of excellent business sagacity, but of a modest and retiring disposition, always disdaining self-advertisement. The establishment and expansion of church institutions were further evidences of his constructive ability.
A biographer said of him:
"Bishop Anderson makes little or no response to the pomp and mystery of priestly ceremonial. With perhaps more of force than gentleness in his make-up, he is yet beloved, especially by children, as well as revered by all who know him. He attaches great importance to preaching, which he does pre-eminently well, and though making little appeal to the emotions, is yet deeply concerned with moral questions. He is democratic and kindly and is a dominant, yet self-effacing, figure in any group or gathering where he may be."
The outdoors had a great call for Bishop Anderson. He loved nature and usually spent most of the summer months at his lodge in the Wisconsin woods, tramping, fishing, reading and studying the out of doors. Frequently he conducted services in a little chapel which he had built in the forest.
Broad Reader
Bishop Anderson was a broad reader and made a deep study of prominent world writers in all ages. Gifted with writing talent himself, it was the lament of many of his parishoners that he did not have more time as an author. His "Letters to Laymen," "The Religion of Our Lord," and "Religion and Morality" were widely quoted and caused one of his influential admirers to remark: "It is a pity that the pressure of the care of the church seems to make it impossible for the bishop to write and publish more frequently. He thinks great thoughts and his sermons are distinguished by simplicity, honesty of conviction and clarity of expression. One is sure that the impression made is not due solely to a powerful personality, for when the printed word is read it is as effective as when it was heard."
Ordained Early in Youth
Ordained early in his twenties, a man of commanding appearance and attractive personality, Bishop Anderson immediately made a profound impression upon his listeners and townspeople. He then showed promise of unusual preaching powers. He was born in Ontario, Can.

DEATH OF NEWTON MAN REMAINS UNSOLVED MYSTERY

Seven Weeks Investigation Failed To Unravel the Case

Newton, Ill., Jan. 30 (AP)—George Dovel, who was jealous of his wife and who had a map purporting to show the location of a buried treasure in Missouri, was shot dead the night of December 10, last.
Today, seven weeks later, county officials are still wondering whether it was murder or suicide.
The evidence is controversial and the investigation has ended against a blind wall. However, Coroner Roy McCormick and State's Attorney Homer Kasserman indicated today that a grand jury will be called.
Dovel was shot behind the right ear; two revolvers are offered by the witness as that from which the fatal bullet was fired; the stories of the witnesses differ in nearly every respect; the only similarity is that all are agreed that Dovel committed suicide.
But the coroner's jury decided it was murder.
The witnesses include Sheriff Steve McKinney and Dr. J. W. Hutton, both of Newton; Mrs. Fannie Dovel, the widow; Mildred Varvel, of Wheeler, Ill.; George Williams, of Collinsville, Ill.; George Williams, of Deitrich, Ill.; and Ray Murphy of Robinson, Ill. Another, Harry C. Johnson, was still being sought today.
On the afternoon of December 10, Sheriff McKinney, accompanied by Murphy, went to the Dovel home to collect $22 from Johnson for a worthless check he had given Murphy.
Drinks Were Served
The varied evidence related the arrival the others of the witnesses; testimony showed that drinks of whiskey were served and that both Johnson and Dr. Hutton paid marked attention to Mrs. Dovel.
There was evidence to show that Dovel was jealous of his wife; that he had a map showing where $5,000 was buried beneath a rock somewhere in the countryside about Lone Jack, Mo.; this map was found in Dovel's clothing and was said to have been given him by Johnson, who claimed to have buried the money.
Prohibition enters into the investigation. A resident of the county for many years, Dovel was owner of a distillery until a decade ago. Then, after the dry law went into effect, a large copper still was missed from the distillery and the building burned down.
Officials have always believed the still was yet in operation but they could never locate it. Rumors sifted into Newton that Dovel had the cellar of the house mined with dynamite and that he had said he would set off the dynamite if prohibition agents ever visited his house.
An autopsy showed powder burns about the wound, and Dr. Bernard Webber, of Olney, Ill., told the coroner's jury that he believed Dovel could have shot himself.
Mrs. Dovel gave officials a revolver she said she found by the body; but the bullet that killed Dovel was not the same caliber. Another revolver was produced by Hutton—this one was of the same calibre. Testimony showed Dr. Hutton was a frequent visitor at the Dovel home and often brought liquor with him.
All of the witnesses except the Sheriff and Dr. Hutton are held under their own recognizance on 1,000 bond.

Police Patrol MADRID STREETS TO QUELL RIOTS

Precautions Taken To Prevent Republican Activities

Madrid, Jan. 30 — (AP) — Heavily armed police patrolled the streets of Madrid today prepared to curb republican manifestations and demonstrations by students and others opposed to the new Premier-designate, Lieutenant-General Domsa Berenguer.
Possibly in view of the elaborate precautions the city was quieter than at any time since resignation Tuesday of General Primo de Rivera, for six years Spanish Dictator.
Crowds collected in many places to discuss rumors of selections to the new cabinet of General Berenguer; but they were orderly and showed no disposition to side with more radical students who Wednesday fought with the police.
Persons close to General Berenguer said he had completed a list of Ministers for submission to King Alfonso, the list depending, however, on acceptance by Francisco Camba of Barcelona, of the Finance post.
Some politicians showed extreme disinclination to associate themselves with the new government, preferring to wait until constitutional government had been re-established.
The happiest man in Spain seemed to be General Primo de Rivera, who though technically Dictator will have the cares and burdens of office lifted very shortly from his shoulders.
The provinces generally reported complete calm with no demonstrations beyond those of the students who are striking in sympathy with students in Madrid.

Pantages To Learn His Fate Late Today

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 30 — (UP) — The second plea of Alexander Pantages, multi-millionaire showman, to gain freedom from jail on bail was denied today by Superior Judge Charles Brice, who at the same time denounced attempts of members of the Pantages family to influence the court.
Los Angeles, Jan. 30 — (AP) — Alexander Pantages, 54-year-old vaudeville magnate, today will learn whether he must remain in jail or will be granted his liberty under bond pending decision on his appeal from a sentence of from one to fifty years in prison for an attack on Eunice Pringle, co-ed dancer.
Testimony of physicians was completed yesterday and only the arguments of attorneys remain to be heard before Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke gives his decision. Pantages' petition for release was based on the contention that he was near death from a heart ailment. It is his second attempt for admission to bail.

Heavy Snow Falls In Capital Today

Washington, Jan. 30 — (AP) — A driving snow storm that almost brought traffic to a standstill failed today to keep the President of the United States from reaching his office on time—9 o'clock.
More fortunate than most of the city's workers, Herbert Hoover had little more than a block to do from the White House to his temporary office in the State-War Departments Building and by using an automobile he arrived without getting his feet wet.
The snow, which by mid-morning had reached a depth of about nine inches, still was falling without sign of abatement.
The snow was the heaviest since the blizzard of 1928 and gave promise of calling if not surpassing that of 1928.

Auto Runs 59 Miles On Gallon of Gas

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. E. Oliver, 999-2876 E. EXPLOSION IN OIL REFINERY TRAPPED FOUR

One Man Is Instantly Killed: Plant is Abandoned

Fresno, Cal., Jan. 30 — (AP) — An explosion today wrecked the new $5,000 absorption plant of the Petroleum Securities Company in Kettleman Hills oil field, south of here, killing one man and apparently trapping four others in the flaming ruins.
At least two other men were injured. An explosion in a tank within works started the fire. The flames spread as burning oil from the tank splattered through the plant.
Rescuers started into the ruins after the first blast but the explosion of a second tank drove them back, preventing them from recovering bodies of Charles L. Phillips, foreman of the plant crew who was killed, and three others.
Firefighters said bodies of the missing men apparently were in ruins. Intense heat prevented firefighters from operating. Three of the tanks in the plant were abandoned because it was impossible to approach the burning plant.
Field workers asserted that friction caused the explosion.
Workmen said gas and oil had been coming with terrific pressure through the pipes to the plant and that the pipe lines became hot. It was believed that gravel thrown up by well had struck sparks against side of a pipe, thus causing the explosion.
After the association property was purchased by the Roxana Corporation, an effort was made to dispose of the building, either by having it moved from the lot or dismantled. It was reported that a few bids were received but were not considered as sufficient by the owner and were rejected. The amount paid by the purchaser of the building was not given out today.

Prescott Purchaser Of Y. M. C. A. Bldg.

George Prescott of this city has placed a force of workmen in the Dixon Young Men's Christian Association building on Third street and Galena avenue, who have started tearing down the two story brick structure. Mr. Prescott purchased the building from the Roxana Petroleum Corporation and is to have the lot cleared within thirty days. At that time work will be started on the construction of the new service station property by the owners.
Mr. Prescott plans to rush the work of dismantling the building and removing it as rapidly as possible from the premises. The salvaged lumber and building material will be used by him later in the season probably in the construction of a large warehouse.

H. S. P. T. A. Meeting Wednesday Enjoyed

The high school Parent Teachers Association held its first meeting in the new high school on Wednesday afternoon. At that meeting the association realized a dream which was rather vague a few years ago, a large gathering of parents being present to cooperate with the teachers.

Before the discussion, the Junior Glee Club sang two numbers which were greatly enjoyed. The subject for discussion was "The Home" and ideas about what an ideal home should be were expressed from several points of view. Sara Alckruse spoke for the high school girls, telling what she thought the home should do for the child. The boys were represented by Harold Murphy who gave the parents present some practical hints for functioning as makers of ideal homes. Miss Dorothy Armstrong talked for the faculty and the parents were represented by Mrs. H. C. Warner who succeeded in inspiring those present with a desire for creating a fine atmosphere in the home for their young people and offered many suggestions to be used as a work plan.

After the business meeting the Junior mothers served refreshments and informal meetings were enjoyed by parents and teachers.

Mrs. Lindbergh Now First Class Pilot

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today became the first woman in the United States to hold a first class glider pilot's license.

The former Anne Morrow qualified for the distinction here yesterday by making a flight of a little more than six minutes while her famous husband, aeronautical expert and a crowd of delighted spectators watched. Colonel Lindbergh himself made a similar qualifying flight here a little more than a week ago, maneuvering a motorless plane for 32 minutes.

Mrs. Lindbergh used the same sail plane in which her husband won his license and in which Hawley Bowlus' builder, recently established an American gliding record of six hours, 19 minutes, 3 seconds.

Mrs. Lindbergh placed herself in the hands of her husband and Bowlus for thorough preliminary training before she attempted the sail plane feat.

She already held an airplane pilot's license, and her previous flight training under the teaching of her husband allowed her to cut her glider training period to a minimum.

Grandma's Clothes Fail To Hold Back The High Jinks Deb

(AP Feature Service Writer)
 WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Grandmother's gown, disguises the Washington debutante's appearance this winter, but it does not change her modern mind and manners.

She is just as athletic, despite long skirts and tight waists.

A long summer in the open has prepared her for such a strenuous social program as grandmother never could have stood. After dancing all afternoon as the debutantes do now, then again until dawn, grandmother would have fainted in about the fifth dance of the evening.

By that time the 1930 deb is just getting her second wind. Not a step does she falter. Those clinging blue, pink or red taffetas and chiffons which mould her form so tightly are not built up over whalebone. Her own strong figure supports them.

I saw one deb walk sedately with her escort to the middle of the ball room. Only a few were dancing. The long stretch of polished floor gave this pair an idea.

The youth suddenly turned, ran a few steps and skated clear to the far end of the room. His partner gave a little whoop and promptly followed, her long skirts and tight waist no more deterring her than if they had been sweater and knickers.

A little dark-haired deb in red who had been whisked from one partner to another all evening gave a down-south headwink which required both speed and endurance.

In the dressing rooms, between pinning up torn flounces and begging for lip stick, the talk is distingy 1930.

You may dress the girl of today in grandmother's clothes but it does not endow her with a crinoline and smelling salts temperament.

Bridge Luncheon Wednesday Was a Delightful Event

Wednesday Mesdames C. A. Mellett, Mrs. Homer E. Senneff and Mrs. Frank D. Stephan were hosts at a most enjoyable social event of the mid-winter season, a bridge luncheon at 1 o'clock, which was held at the attractive home of Mrs. C. A. Mellett on East Fellows street.

There were guests for eleven tables at bridge, which was enjoyed after the elegantly appointed luncheon had been served. The tables daintily decorated in orchid and green were placed in the dining room and the large living room. Green luncheon napery and orchid napery, with either the contrasting orchid or green dishes, and the floral decorations.

of orchid tulips, mauve colored snapdragons and ferns, illuminated with pink tapers, resulted in an exceptionally charming and artistic effect.

Mrs. Adolph Eichler was presented the favor for high honors and Mrs. Gordon Overstreet was presented the favor for second honors.

SEVERITY OR KINDNESS?

Apparently there are still people in this country who are afraid that we are treating our criminals too gently.

Judge Edwin O. Lewis of Philadelphia, delivering his charge to the January grand jury, warned the jurors not to be too sentimental when they paid their regular visits to the county's penal institutions. A prison, he said, must be strict and hard in order to cure robbers and murderers of their criminal leanings.

"A prison sentence of even 30 days is intended to teach a man a lesson so that he will not commit crime again," said the judge.

"We do not send men to prison to have a happy holiday. So many of those who have been recently released have been committing crimes of violence that we are more than ever disposed not to relax in our duty or to show sentimental tolerance and sympathy for criminals."

This is all very well, and certainly no one will deny that we want to protect ourselves against robbers and murders in any way we can. The only trouble is that our present regime, which is at least fairly harsh, isn't doing it very well.

Sheldon and Eleanor Glueck of Harvard recently studied the careers of 500 criminals in Massachusetts penal institutions. They made some interesting discoveries; among them, the discovery that 80 per cent of 510 men discharged from the Massachusetts reformatory went right on committing crimes after their release. And Dr. Richard C. Cabot of Harvard comments on that fact as follows:

"Why should this regime reform anybody? In my experience there are few tougher and more unyielding structures in the world than a bad habit. It does not change as the result of a few months of forced, unpaid and unpalatable labor."

The one essential condition to reformation of a criminal, he says, is:

"That someone should come to know and to understand the man in so intimate and friendly a way that he comes to a better understanding of himself and to a truer comprehension of the world he lives in."

For the criminal, says Dr. Cabot, must have a new interest in an honest job, and a new affection for some one for whose sake it seems worth while to behave more decently.

All of this is a long way from the severity advocated by Judge Lewis. But there is at least an even chance that these Harvard investigators know quite as much about the problem as the Philadelphia jurist. Certainly our present system isn't getting us any results. Might it not be worth our while to give the other a trial?

Of course, it would be complicated and expensive. We would have to spend much more thought and money on our prisons than we do now. It is not as easy to put understanding and affection into a thug's soul as it is to lock him up and feed him bread and water. But it might be worth trying, even so.

THE RAILROAD MAN'S PROBLEMS.

The new problems that changed conditions in American life have raised up for the vexation of the railroad executive are graphically set forth by some figures in the current issue of Golden Book magazine.

The gleaming Pullman car, for instance, is no longer the great money-maker for the railroads. For every dollar it earns the lowly freight car earns six.

Furthermore, the day coach has fallen on evil days. In 1921 day coach passengers contributed $795,000,000 to the railroads; in 1928 they paid only $454,000,000. Automobiles and higher living standards are directly responsible.

The railroad men have met the issue by increasing their efficiency. In 1922 the average freight train had 38 cars; today it has 48. In 1922 the average car moved 23 miles a day; now it moves 31 miles.

If you think that all of this hasn't given the railroad men furrowed brows and gray hairs, you might ask the next railroad man you meet.

A Tennessee thief stole a feather bed. Maybe the police should try to catch him napping.

Delegates to the naval conference in London were offered punch, sherry, ale, Benedictine and other drinks. The work of a naval delegate must be very refreshing.

Several reductions have been made in the income tax this year, among the one by Congress and one by the Wall Street bears.

The bank in a small town in Kansas closed its doors the other day. Three suspicious strangers were in town looking for work, according to an item in the local paper.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN PICTURES BY BOCK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Hey, Mister Bee! Come back here quick! Are we the victims of a trick?" yelled Copsy, as the bee flew off and left the bunch alone. "Come take us off this flower right now, or we will punish you somehow." Then, as the bee kept going Copsy sat right down to groan. "Aw, gee," said he, "this isn't fair. We're stranded here, up in the air. I guess the sunflower is the tallest flower that he could find. We might jump down, but not for me. 'T would be my luck to sprain a knee. I thought the bee was nice at first, but now he seems unkind."

"He isn't coming back, I guess," said Scouty. "We are in a mess. The way the wind is blowing makes it hard to hang on tight. We keep on tipping to and fro and I'm afraid that off we'll go. My, if we hit the muddy ground below, we'll look a sight."

They sat and wondered what to do and then, the next thing that they knew, a great big crow came flying by. "Twas chirping very loud. "Hello there, Tinymites," it said. "Is that big flower your little bed? If you should try to sleep you'd be a funny looking crowd." "We're stranded. This is not our bed. Please help us off," one Tiny said. The bird then landed on the flower and chirped. "Ah, what a treat. The big flower has nice seeds galore and that is what I came here for. Just pardon me a moment Tinymites. I'm going to eat." It gave the Tinsies all a thrill to watch him grab seeds in his bill. Said Copsy, "Gee, I wish that we could eat those big seeds, too. But they would not taste good to us, so we'll help you without a fuss. Then maybe you will help us in return for helping you."

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

LAUNCHING OF MONITOR

On Jan. 30, 1862, the Monitor, the first successful ironclad vessel in the history of the United States Navy, was launched at Greenspoint, L. I.

The boat was so oddly constructed (it resembled a pillbox on a float) that it was ridiculed as impractical, as was its designer, John Ericsson.

Public feeling, however, abruptly changed on March 9. On this date Ericsson's squat craft met the Merrimac, one of the most powerful vessels in the Confederate fleet, and forced it to retreat in a disabled condition. The rejoicing in the north was great as the Merrimac was regarded there as a constant menace to northern ports.

Two months after this victory, the Monitor, with other Federal vessels, made an unsuccessful attempt to capture Richmond. The famous ship ended its career on Dec. 31, 1862, when it floundered in a storm off Hatteras and sank with four officers and 17 men.

This date in history also commemorates the attempt of Richard Lawrence, maniac, to assassinate President Jackson in 1835; the signing in 1897 of the treaty with England settling the Alaskan boundary dispute, and the airplane flight in 1911 of J. A. D. McCurdy from Key West to Havana.

Among her favorite roles were Mignon, San Tuzza, Aida and Madalena in "Andrea Chenier."

Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

WOULD REQUIRE CONGRESSMEN TO TAKE THE PLEDGE

Bill Introduced In House Proposes That All Take Oath

BY KENNETH G. CRAWFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Jan. 29.—(UP)—A proposal that members of Congress take a pledge not to drink was placed before the House today with indications that Congressmen will not have to vote publicly on the issue.

The bill, by Rep. Stone, Repn., Okla., a dry, providing that anyone who receives money from the United States Treasury must take an oath not to drink, was referred to the House Judiciary committee. It would include all legislative, administrative and judicial officials of the country.

Like many another similar measure, the Stone bill is expected to get no farther than the committee. As a suggested method of proving the good faith of drys in Congress, however, it probably will revive discussion both in and out of Congress on the ethics involved in the practice of voting dry and drinking wet.

Private estimates by Congressmen of the number of national legislators who drink run from 10 to 75 per cent, with making the high guesses and dry the low.

Rep. Cramton, Repn., Mich., ventured the guess that 90 per cent of House members are teetotalers. Senator Jones, Repn., Wash., author of the five-and-ten law, believes the number of imbibers in the Senate has been reduced conspicuously by prohibition.

Stone's attempt to force all officials to pledge themselves to abstinence was inspired apparently by the ruling of Attorney General Mitchell that all officials in his department charged with responsibility for enforcement of the Volstead law must refrain from drinking and believe in the prohibition cause.

Rep. Celler, Dem., N. Y., discussing this ruling in the House, said the late President Harding, former Governor Smith of New York, Governor Ritchie of Maryland, and two members of President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission, Dean Roscoe Pound and Newton D. Baker, would be disqualified by Mitchell's ban.

Asked how many congressmen he thought would qualify, Celler said: "Most dry congressmen are like the leaning tower of Pisa. They have the inclination but they dare not fall."

BODY OF RICH SPORTSMAN WAS FOUND IN CANAL

Authorities Mystified By Death Of Pasadena Architect

Yuma, Ariz., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The mysterious death of W. Paul Loveland, wealthy Pasadena, Cal., architect and sportsman, whose body was found in an unmarked grave by the side of a Mexican irrigation canal, was being investigated today by police authorities of Arizona and Mexico.

Loveland's body was found and removed yesterday from its makeshift burial place near Cuernavaca, Mexico, 24 miles south of the international line, and identified by Sheriff J. C. Hunter and Chief of Police Henry Levy of Yuma.

Loveland had been missing since shortly after Christmas. Mexicans said they found the body four days ago in an irrigation canal near Cuernavaca, and buried it. The condition of the body, Sheriff Hunter said, prevented any immediate determination of the cause of death.

Loveland left his Pasadena home during the Christmas holidays for a fishing trip. Mrs. Loveland received one picture postcard from him, announcing that he intended to fish at Lagoona Dam. The irrigation canal in which his body is reported to have been found draws its supply from Lagoona Dam.

J. A. GRAVES, PRESIDENT OF THE FARMERS & MERCHANTS NATIONAL BANK OF LOS ANGELES, SAYS:

THAT in my long business experience I find that success depends upon close attention to whatever industry one is engaged in, coupled with hard labor.

Things do not just come to the wealthy men of this nation. If you will study their history you will find that, in most instances, their beginnings were humble, their rise in the world slow, and when success came to them it was merited. Honesty toward one's fellow creatures is an attribute that has contributed to the success of many. Our great philanthropists, as a rule, have been self-made men. Having themselves suffered from poverty, they can understand the wants of their fellow-men and know better how to assist them.

Nature has been kind to America in many ways. It vested her with more natural resources than any spot on the face of the globe except Russia. Unlike Russia, the American people have, up to the present time, maintained a sensible course, politically, not always free from corruption, but better by far than that of many nations. Vigilance against Red agitators and Communists who, in the past, have not hesitated to commit any sort of a dastardly outrage to accomplish some purpose dear to their hearts, is necessary, if we would forever keep our free institutions unhampered as they left the hands of the founders of our government.

We should avoid too much frivolity, such as professional baseball and football, golf and kindred sports, when they interfere with the orderly conduct of our affairs. Gambling is an evil which, whether practiced on the stock market or at the card table has ruined many a man whose abilities were great and prospects bright.

This is a good old world for those who will treat it properly. Years ago, Juvenal wrote:

"We call on Fortune and her aid implore, When Prudence is the Goddess to adore."

Waiving aside Prudence and trusting to Fortune has cost many a man the accumulations of years of honest toil. NO MAN SHOULD EXPECT TOO MUCH IN THIS BUSY WORLD. HE SHOULD DESIRE THAT, AND THAT ONLY, WHICH HONEST INDUSTRY ENTITLES HIM TO.

In Kurdistan, music of any sort is considered immoral.

PLAY

By Edward Livingston Hunt, M. D. New York, New York

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington D. C.)

To preserve their balance and to keep the even tenor of their way, nervous people must work and rest and play. Each of these three is important but each must be proportioned properly to the other.

Play means intelligent and constructive amusement. It must please and at the same time improve. One child playing with blocks soon tires, while another acquires dexterity, learns facts, and finds out how to reason. It is not what you play, but how you play that is important. There must be play for the mind and play for the body. Clever people combine both.

There are many different kinds of mental play—games, cards, cross word puzzles, charades. The more substantial and more stimulating are private theatricals, chess and auction bridge. Of all mental play, reading is the best. People should acquire the habit of reading. To read daily is to be happy and wise—it is a tonic for the old and young and will add many hours of happiness to life. Cards were made for nervous people they combine concentration with skill, and occupation with pleasure. And on some chosen few nature has bestowed gifts so that they can play at painting, drawing and singing.

Nervous people do not realize why they have difficulty in concentrating, thinking and reasoning. It is largely because the brain has not been properly trained, is not properly used, and is not being cared for in a proper way. Women especially fail to realize this; they tend to take too much for granted and forget that the brain needs care just as much as the body. No day should pass without our making a sincere effort to add to our knowledge and our logic. In this way and in this way only can we get the most out of life and make the greatest return for life.

Play for the body is unlimited; it can be found to suit every taste, every purse and every age. Tennis for the young, golf for the middle aged and croquet for the old; farming for men and gardening for women; walking for all. Nature even provides play as the climate changes—swimming in the Summer and skating in the Winter. The great advantage of physical play is that it not only affords interest and occupation but also improves the general health and stimulates the circulation. Competitive play has a double advantage, for sports and games in which two or more play add to the physical exercise the spirit of competition and in this way simulate and bring advantages to both the mind and body.

Nature intends us to play, and has placed in our hands innumerable toys and nurseries in which to use them. All outdoors is ours, and pastimes galore. Feeble and lacking is the life that fails to play, play regularly, and play hard.

POET'S CORNER

WINTER—A BLIZZARD

Winter is here, just see the snow, Whirling about, wherever you go. Eddying here and piling up there, Snow today, is everywhere.

Oh it is cold and bleak outside, Summer has gone its face to hide. Nothing cheers us, when we're old, But to stay in the house, away from cold.

When we were young, we went with a shout,

To play in the snow, and toss it about.

We cared not for cold, tho it made our hand tingle,

We would hitch up Dobbin, and sleigh bells would jingle.

To party or ball, we'd go many miles,

And on our best girl we'd lavish our smiles.

We'd crack the whip, and away we'd go,

With Dobbin and sleigh, o'er creaking snow.

But alas those days have all gone by,

Its only in memory, that we yet try

To wander about, in these devious ways,

And again enjoy those happy days.

Charles Hey.

DANCE FLOOR AND BAR OPEN ON NEW TRAIN

Paris to Monte Carlo Flyer Also Has Dog Compartments

Paris.—(UP)—You can dance all the way from Paris to Monte Carlo or cover the 500 miles leaning against a mahogany cocktail bar with your foot on a brass rail while an ebony-hued bartender shakes a nonstop shaker.

The most luxurious Pullman train in the world has just been put into service to link dismal Paris with the Mediterranean Riviera in 14 hours. Among the novelties of this train are the dance floor and the cocktail bar but other features are wireless sets from Paris and London and broadcast stock exchange, Wall Street and racing results.

The cars are of gray maple trimmed in silver and glass. The gray carpets fold up, the chairs push against the walls and the tables close out of way, disclosing a polished oak dance floor. If there does not happen to be dancing music in the air, the porter draws out a Victrola, attaches the loudspeaker and dancing is on in every car. The bar has been a great success.

Why Few Are Fat

Excess fat has been disappearing fast in late years. So fast that excess fat is the exception now. You see that in every circle.

That change is largely due to the discovery that excess fat is largely the result of a gland weakness. A gland whose secretion helps turn food to fuel. So modern physicians, in treating obesity, seek to combat this cause.

Their method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Now almost everyone has slender friends to show them the results.

Get what they did—try Marmola. All you need supply it at $1 a box, and a box in each box tells you how and why it acts.

with its five high stools lined up against the mahogany counter. It is possible to start a cocktail in Fontainebleau and finish it in Lyons, 100 miles away for the train maintains a speed of a mile a minute.

Another feature of the train is a uniformed attendant for dogs. Most smart Parisians going to the Riviera travel with their pets. These are taken to a car which contains, in addition to kennels, an exercise ground where the attendant walks the animals up and down on leash. A special little kitchen prepares them warm meals, but they have neither bar nor dance floor.

Jackson, Miss.—(UP)—A woman recently wrote Gov. Theo. G. Bilbo of Mississippi as follows: "Dear Bill Bo: Conditions here are terrible. Ladies aren't saved; they can get out for the moonshine, even." ## A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

LADIES G. A. R. TO MEET

MONDAY EVENING—The Ladies of the G. A. R. Circle No. 73, will hold their regular meeting in G. A. R. hall Monday evening, Feb. 3rd at 8 o'clock sharp. There will be initiation and balloting at this meeting, and all officers are kindly requested to be present. Members and Comrades are requested to attend in large numbers as the final arrangements will be made for the anniversary supper and program.

ALL MEMBERS ASKED

TO BE AT REHEARSAL—All members of the choir of St. Paul's Lutheran church are asked to be prompt at rehearsal at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the church.

WILL ENTERTAIN FRIDAY

EVENING AT BRIDGE—Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Dykstra will entertain at bridge Friday evening.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Lemon Rinse—Little girls with yellow curls or light blonde hair should have a bit of lemon put in the rinse water every time they are shampooed. They will appreciate having their hair stay light, when they grow up.

Non-skid Mat: It is a wise housewife, who reduces the hazards of slippery bath tubs by purchasing one of the comparatively inexpensive section rubber bath mats for the bottom of the tub.

Saves Nicks: When washing valuable china or glassware, it is advisable to place a thick Turkish towel or a rubber pad in the bottom of the dishpan to prevent their chipping.

Glycerine Wash: When washing gloves, be sure to put a teaspoon of glycerine into the water both for washing and rinsing as this softens them.

Onion Tears: If you pour boiling water over onions before you peel them your eyes will not smart while preparing them.

Onion Dressing: If you have served onions for a meal, it is a good plan to add with some clove drops, or candied spice to take away the smell of onions on your breath.

Chopped Figs: If you add a few drops of lemon to figs or dates that you are running through the chopping machine, it will prevent clogging.

Quick Bake: Potatoes bake much more quickly if soaked a few minutes in hot water before being put into the oven.

Pickled Peaches: Nothing is finer to garnish fried chicken, lamb chops or breaded veal cutlet than pickled peaches.

Thin Cream: To whip thin cream add the white of an egg before you start to beat. If the quantity is large, it may take two whites but this will make whipping a sure success.

Shrunken Dresses: If your waists or dresses seem to have shrunk, perhaps it is in the pressing. Try pressing them the other way and see if they do not expand to their former dimensions.

Sleeve Boards: With the Bishop sleeve and other fancy sleeves coming in again, the purchase of a tiny sleeve board is money well spent.

Clean Linoleums: Linoleum should be varnished before using. It can be done later however, and should be since it is very simple to keep varnished linoleum clean. Merely wiping off with a dust mop suffices.

Kids' Cozy Corner—Children should be provided with a cozy corner, with lounging couch or easy chair and light just right for reading or playing games. Too often the adults take all the available spots and wonder why the children do not read.

The WOMAN'S DAY

One of the most comely and popular deb's of last season has now opened an employment bureau at the Junior League house in New York, and puts in an eight hour day getting jobs for society girls who want to stop being butterflies and become busy bees.

Some girls, those who actually have to work or go hungry, resent the job-seeking society girl. And in a way, the girl who can pick and choose, and who can walk out on a job any time she gets tired of it, does have the breaks.

But just the same the society girl has done much to establish women in industry, to remove any stigma from working, and to debunk the Mid-Victorian idea that a woman ought to work for glory and forget the gold.

AN OPEN FIELD

To be sure, the society girl walks with assurance into the path that was cleared painfully and somewhat slowly by the girl who really had to work. For when woman first began to be employed outside the home, the only sort of work that carried much prestige was teaching. Office work was scarcely respectable, because it was considered not quite proper for a girl to work side by side with men. But she walks with assurance, she also bestows assurance upon others. She does not act as if she were working because she wanted to express herself, or make a gesture of independence, or set a good example for others—no indeed, she is working for money, and that she comes right out and states that she is out to get all she can.

She realizes that her social position and her background has a distinct commercial value that compensates for a lack of business training and experience.

MONEY IS THE GOAL

Comparatively few society girls who go into business insist on jobs with prestige or seek those that pay in glory. They are working for money, and bent on making it. If necessary, they will work in a shop, and give the obscure woman the pleasure of being served by a social register. If one has a liking for finance, and many of them have, she will take any sort of a clerical job that will give her a foothold in a brokerage house or a bank.

And New York has many examples of society girls who are making good and making money, and apparently having more fun in business than in society.

And after all, why are they not valuable recruits to industry? They are daughters and granddaughters of men who have made fortunes and secured social positions. They have inherited a love for finance as well as finery. Why should they not inherit an instinct to trade and build up an industry, as well as the sons of the family?

CALL OF INDUSTRY

The fact is that while what we call Society has really stagnated in the years just before and those following the war, industry has progressed, expanded, and offered limitless opportunities for expression and adventure, as well as for gold. And it is not surprising that girls who have social position want to get into industry, which is an unexplored field.

Or, is it surprising that some who, by the industrial possibility of the past decade, have amassed millions, make a great effort to crash into Society? All the explorers and pioneers are not dead, and the instinct to see new worlds is as strong as ever.

When it comes to speed, Mlle. Helle Niceol France has something all the women can shoot after. This is said to be the fastest speed a woman has ever traveled in an automobile.

of his livestock to Chicago during the time that it will take to have his truck reconditioned following the accident at DeKalb recently.

Tony Halbmaier is now eligible to entrance in the movies. At any rate that is what position is usually offered to anyone doing something unusual. Well Tony tried a different stunt; that of being buried under a straw stack for half an hour and having lived to tell the tale. It happened Monday afternoon as he was dismantling the wood structure which held up the stack. An 8x8 timber suddenly slipped out of position and left the entire stack fall upon him. The timber caught his arm and held him fast so that he was unable to help himself, so all he could do was to hold on. His cries were unheard but some little time later his wife looked out of the window and discovered the straw shed had collapsed. She went out to investigate and found her husband in his awful predicament. She telephoned to town and lots of help arrived and rescued Tony. Had it not been for the air space which the large timber provided, by not allowing the straw to settle tightly about him Tony would no doubt have suffocated. As it is his only injury is a badly swollen arm.

For Bladder Relief is Nature's Danger Signal. Columbus Minister's Wife Relates Experience.

Rev. W. H. Mitchell, Jeffersonville, Ohio, says: "My wife was troubled seriously with bladder irritation until we used Lithiated Buchu (Keller's Formula). She would have to get up 6 to 8 times each night. Will gladly answer any letter."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the bladder as epsom salts on the bowels. Drives out foreign matter and decreases excessive acidity, thereby relieving irritation. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at Rowland's Pharmacy—Ad.

"Konjola rescued me from an ailment that was almost driving me mad," said Mrs. H. A. Canfield, 2100 1/2 Jackson street, Joliet. "I had been trying one medicine after the other for nervous disorders that made life miserable for me. A rash broke out on my neck and face, itching dreadfully. Often my face became flushed. I was worried and distracted wondering what to do for this condition.

"My friends urged me to give Konjola a trial and I finally consented to their pleadings. To my surprise and pleasure, I began to feel better almost at once. The improvement continued and at the fifth bottle I was freed of my troubles. My nerves were soothed and calmed. The rash disappeared and I am stronger and more energetic. What Konjola has done for me is proof enough that it is the master medicine."

Last evening the teams of the Industrial Basketball League displayed the finest exhibition of basketball to be put on by them yet this season. The teams were very evenly matched and as a result the fans were more than given their money's worth of thrills and excitement. The two league leading teams, Reynolds Wire Co. and the Bales & Wilhelm's five, played off their tie and the wiremakers finally came out the winners to give them, for the time being at least, undisputed possession of the first place in the league. They have won 6 games and lost one, the one being the game played with the I. N. U. Co., who upset the dope bucket and caused them to taste defeat for the first and only time this year.

The opening performance was carried on by the Brown Shoe Co. vs the American Body and Cab Co., the latter finally emerging the winners, by the score of 26 to 23. The cab makers opened the scoring but the Brown Shoe Co. five soon overcame the lead and at the end of the quarter the teams were tied 7 to 7. During the next quarter the shoe makers were able to cage a field goal and a free throw to the one field goal scored by their opponents. This gave them a lead of 10 to 9 at the half. At the start of the third quarter the cab men started off like a flash and for a while it looked just too bad for the Browns. Then when all the fans were getting discouraged Kuhn Birch of the Brown Shoe Co. aggregation, cut loose with an attack, Kuhn being on the scoring end which netted them 12 baskets. With but a minute left to play Kuhn scored a sensational field goal which tied the score. The game ended with the score of 23 to 23. In the three minute overtime period Bremer, who had been playing a great game for the cabmakers scored a beautiful one-handed shot that netted his team the victory. Underwood further clinched his teams chances by caging a free throw. The Browns were unable to connect with the hoop and came out on the small end of a very bitter struggle as the result. Bales and Wilhelm Lose
The game between the Bales and Wilhelm team and the Reynolds Wire cagers turned out to be the answer to the basketball fans' dreams. From the start to the finish the contest was simply a teeth to teeth affair and when the battle scarred veterans finally left the floor the wiremakers had come out the victors by a score of 18 to 15. The B. & W. quintet were in the lead throughout the entire contest till within two minutes of the end of the game when an undaunted Reynolds Wire team forged ahead and maintained its one point margin for the rest of the contest. Johnson and Six were the stars for the Reynolds quintet, the latter locating the hoop for two field goals and the former also for two field goals and three points made from successful trips to the foul circle. This helped him to maintain his position as second highest point man of the league with a total of 67 points. The wiremakers have brought in a new man by the name of Atters, of giant-like proportions, who has made quite a hit with the fans and played a fine game. Roundy was high point man for the B. & W. team with 5 points to his credit. Kennedy and Vaughn came next with four points each. Not enough praise can be given these men for the style of basketball they displayed during the entire game.

The I. N. U. Co. cagers administered the Merchants as severe a drubbing as they have received for some time. Throughout the entire contest they acted like they did not know what it was all about and the game finally wound up with them being defeated to the count of 20 to 11. The I. N. U. were ahead during all four quarters of the game and at no time was their lead endangered. Pitney accounted for 6 points for the Merchants, increasing his total average from 68 to 74, which still ranks him as high point man of the league. Pigg of the utilities aggregation was high point man for the game with 4 field goals and one free throw while Lebre was close behind with three pretty floor shots to his credit. All three of these were made in the first half of the game. The teams lined up as follows:

PLANS COMPLETE
FOR STATE HIGH SCHOOL TOURNEYSState Association Finished Arrangements For Annual Matches

By ROBERT E. OVERAKER
United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Jan. 30—(UP)—Initial steps for the solution of Illinois' major basketball problem—determining the high school champions—have been completed, it was announced at the office of the Illinois High School Athletic Association here today. They consisted of casting the state into 56 districts, the first of the three hurdles that the secondary athletes must clear, and fixing dates for the various districts, sectional and final meets. The district meets will be staged on March 6, 7 and 8, the sectionals—eight in number—on March 13, 14 and 15, and the state finals at Champaign on March 20, 21 and 22.

More than 7500 prep basketball players will compete this year in the annual shorts pants derby in their dash for the court title of Illinois. According to the eligibility rules, each school will be allowed to enter ten players in the district meets, and as 787 schools are to make initial bids for state honors, the largest number of individual players in the history of the event will vie for honors.

Must Be Entered By Feb. 28
All player lists must be in the hands of the managers of the various districts by Feb. 28, officials announced. This will be the last step preliminary to the district tournaments as the schedules will be announced on Feb. 20.

Time was when the annual marathon for the state title was raced in two heats—district and final—but with the increasing number of teams in the state finals, the event became too cumbersome. In 1920, therefore, the sectional meets had their inception. This called for dividing the state into eight sections, with the winners of the various district tournaments competing. The winners of the sectionals now compete for the state title, and by this process of elimination, only eight teams battle at Champaign.

The sectional games are not always played in the same cities on consecutive years, and the scenes this year are to be enacted at Joliet, Rock Island, Peoria, Danville, Springfield, Pana, Salem and Herrin, the last named city being awarded a sectional meet for the first time.

Last year down at Champaign, basketball history was made when the protégés of Coach Larue Vanmeter took the state title back to Johnston City, a mining town in the heart of the southern Illinois coal fields. Johnston City defeated Champaign for the state title.

Champions Ready
Coach Vanmeter has four of his state champions in the field this year and led by Captain Tony Blazine, the titlists are early favorites to reach the finals again. Abe Feduris, giant guard at Johnston City, will be a menace to all offensive tactics of opponents. He was named on the all-star team last year.

Carbondale and Benton are two other teams in the far south that may cause trouble to players in the three act drama to name Illinois' court champions. The play of the two teams all season has been glitzy and their records are impressive. In the central part of the state, Decatur looks the strongest. The Decatur five swept through the big twelve tourney in fine fashion to capture the tourney title and it has turned back the strongest fives in that section of the state.

Both Peoria Central and Peoria Manual have strong teams. The crafty Salem Herke, wise coach at Central, may instill a few new tricks into his Centralists which may result in their crossing the victory line. A nearby rival is Canton, state champion of two years ago.

Northwestern District
In the northwest area, such powerful teams as Galesburg, LaGrange, Rockford and Streator will bear watching. Elgin, represented by one of the greatest cage fives in years, lost several of its stars at the mid-year, but may spring a surprise.

In the east, Urbana's record stands out. The university city five has conquered the strongest teams in the eastern realm of the state.

Those are the teams that have earned recognition in the season's

Chest Colds
Rub well over throat and chest
VICKS VAPORUB
OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY competition, but after all, the records may go for naught, as there is always the likelihood some "dark horse" may take the pole position and hold it to the finish.

The largest school to enter the tournament is Carl Schurz of Chicago with an enrollment of 8216, and the smallest is Wolf Lake, with an enrollment of 13 pupils. By a coincidence, Schurz in Cook county, touches the northern end of the state, and Wolf Lake is located at the southern extremity, and will compete in the Egyptian tourney at Cairo.

Chicago public high schools do not compete with down state institutions, but have a tourney of their own. Aside from Schurz, other windy city schools which will play are Bowen, Crane, Harrison, Hyde Park, Marshall, Roosevelt and Tilden Tech.

Since the inception of Illinois blue ribbon cage event in 1908, only one city has had the distinction of repeating in capturing the prep title. That city is Elgin whose maroon clad and 1925 classics. In the main, the title has rested in smaller cities, the only larger cities to win the title being Bloomington, Rockford, Springfield and Elgin. Of these, Bloomington, Rockford and Elgin have won the title on two different occasions.

NO MORE PILES

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has a wonderful record for quick, safe and lasting relief to pile sufferers. It will do the same for you, or money back. BY WILLIAMS WEEKES

Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Jan. 30—(AP)—The "Battle of the Murphys"—Charlie of Purdue, and Charlie of Loyola—will be held on Purdue's basketball court tonight.

The Murphy boys—both playing at center, both giants, and both ranked among the outstanding basketball players of the country—will lead their teams in the standout game of the western season.

Not only will Loyola be battling for victory over a high ranking foe, but the Ramblers will be fighting to extend their remarkable string of triumphs to 35 straight. Included in the record are victories over Montana State College and Butler, both conquerors of Purdue this season, the Montana State and Butler setbacks, however, were suffered before the Boilermakers attained the form that moved them to the top of the Western Conference heap.

After losing to Montana State and Butler, Purdue started to click and defeated Michigan, 23 to 19, and Northwestern by 39 to 22. The Boilermakers lineup probably will have Glen Harmon, and Vic G. Gibbins at forward, "Stretch" Murphy at center, and Beet Johnny Wooden and Herman Boots at guards.

Two other games will fill out the Big Nine card for the week. Tomorrow night Michigan will seek its second victory of the week in meeting Chicago at Chicago, and Ohio State will seek its second straight over Minnesota, at Minneapolis Saturday night.

Baseball Gossip

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Jan. 30—(UP)—The New York Yankees have under consideration an important trade with another American League club, it was announced today by General Manager Ed Barrow.

Bob Shawkey, Yankees' new manager, is scheduled to arrive tomorrow or Saturday to confer with Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner, and Barrow and the deal may be completed then. As rumored recently, it is now understood, that pitcher Waite Hoyt has been offered to Detroit for pitcher Harry Rice, but that Buckey Harris, Detroit manager, has made the Yankees a counter offer.

The Yankees are anxious to strengthen their pitching staff and have been seeking an extra outfielder. The outfield problem was solved today when the Yankees secured Kenneth Williams, veteran slugging gardener, from the Boston Red Sox on waivers.

Detroit balked on surrendering Rice and it is likely that with Williams a member of the Yanks, Col. Ruppert might accept another player in Rice's place. Detroit needs a shortstop and Harris' counters offer may involve Mark Koenig, who was discussed earlier in the winter in several deals.

Both Hoyt and Koenig will be traded if the Yanks can get what they want for them, Barrow said. Another player mentioned in connection with the Yanks' proposed trade is pitcher Ed Morris of the Boston Red Sox, who is holding out for a $13,000 salary, a raise of $3,000 over last year.

Stevodore Czar Slain By Rivals

New York, Jan. 29—(AP)—The name of Charles (Red) Donnelly 30 years old, was added today to the long list of gang leaders who have been slain in the fight for control of the waterfront in the Red Hook district of Brooklyn.

He was ambushed and shot twice in the head by gunmen hidden behind a checker's shanty on the pier of the Colombian Line.

Two weeks ago Detective William Brownan, whose business it is to know the doings of the waterfront gangs met Donnelly.

"I've been hearing things, Red," the detective told the stevedore czar, "you had better lay off. Its in the cards that they'll get you sometime."

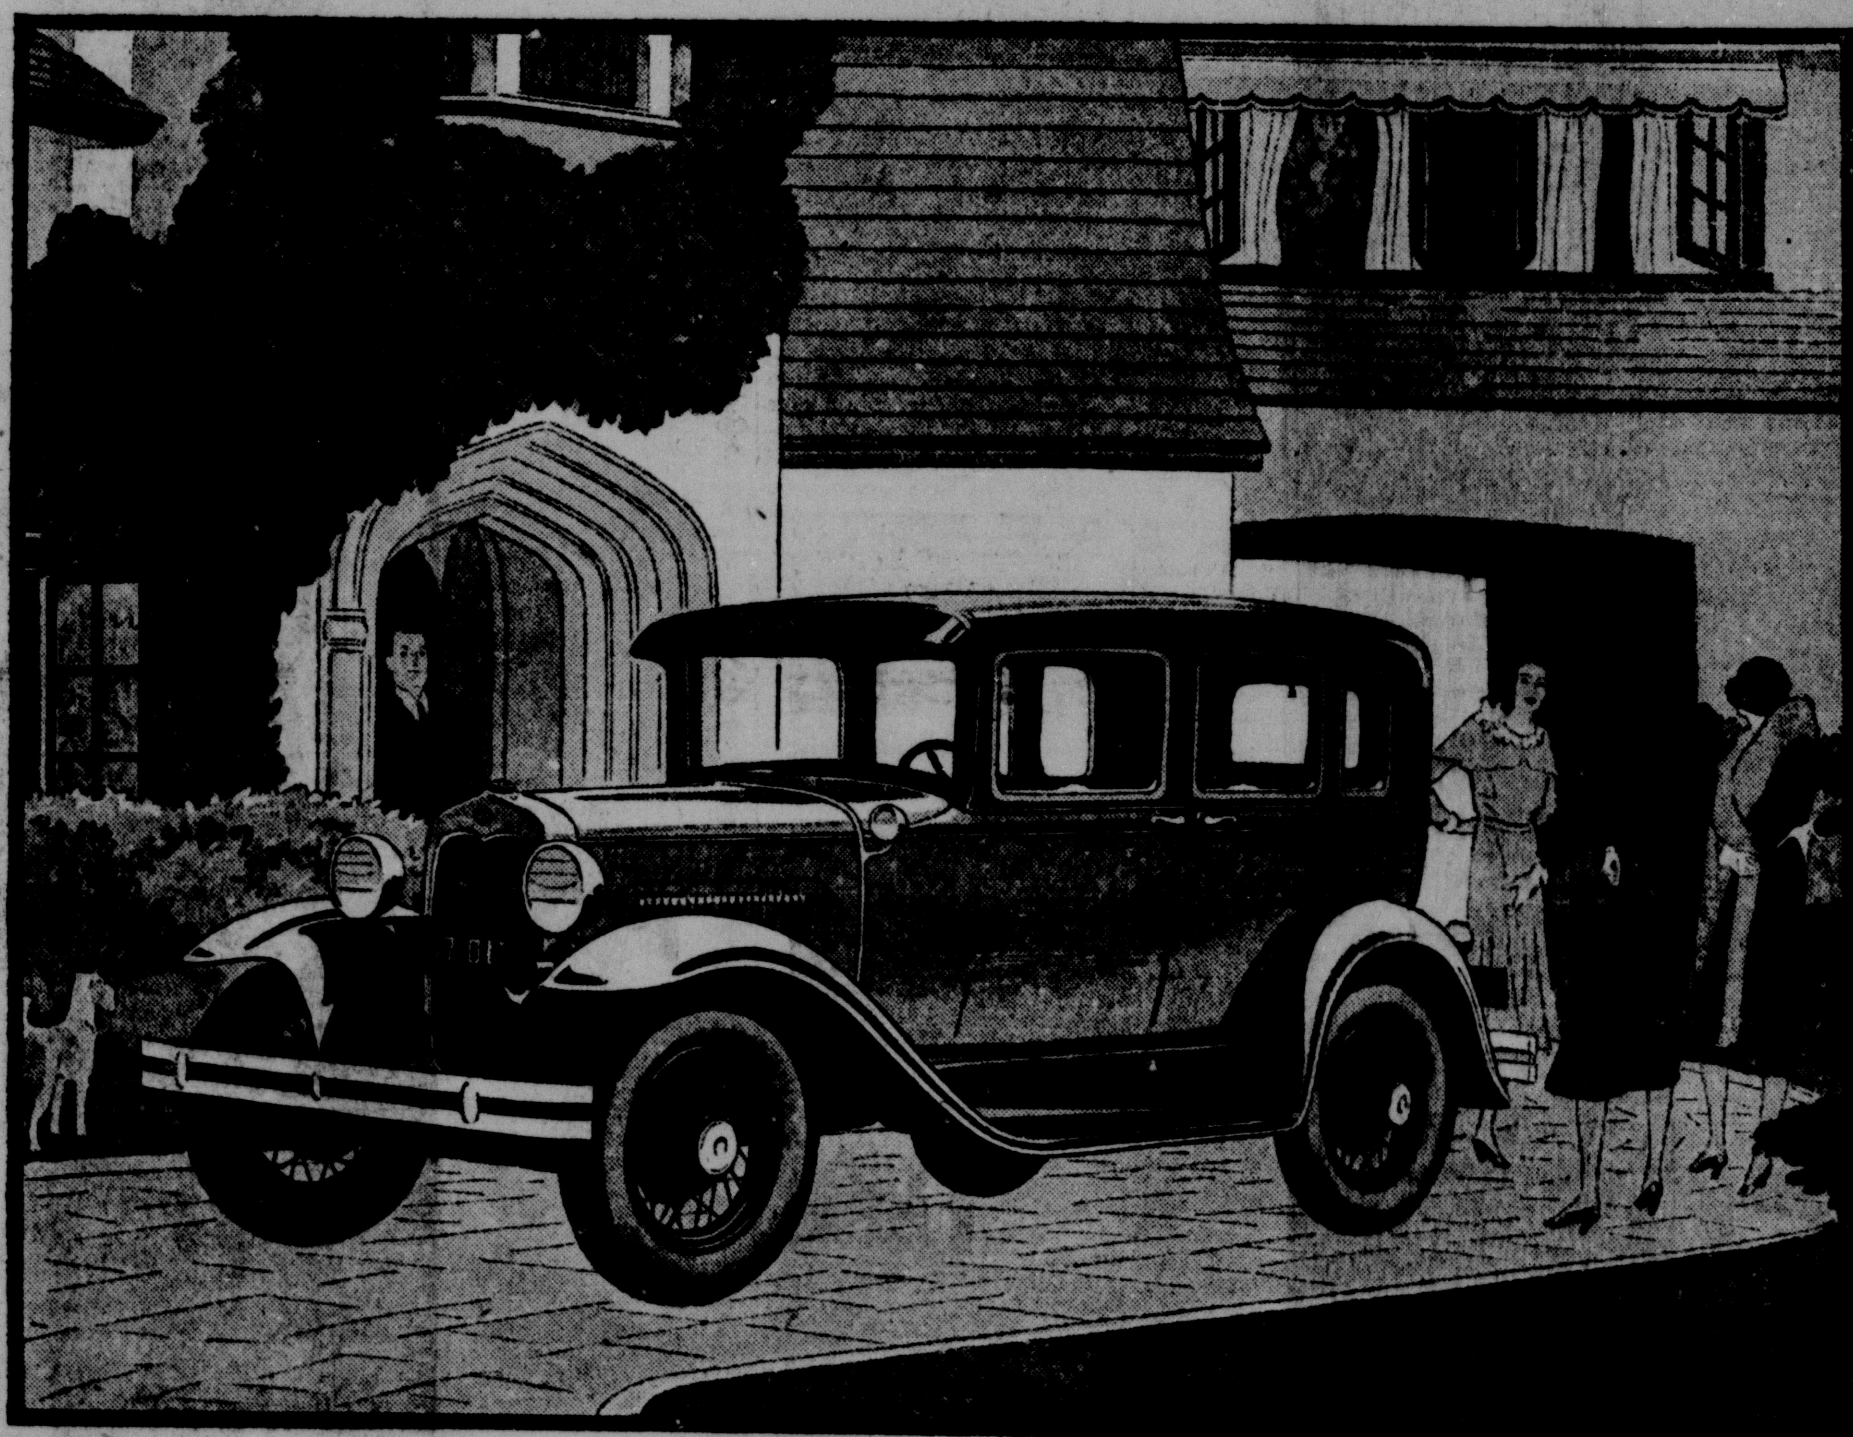

Brownan said Donnelly answered his warning with a laugh. He was watching the ship loaders from whom he extracted tribute yesterday when a messenger approached him and said:

"You're wanted down on the pier. Donnelly strolled toward the pierhead. As he passed the checker's booth there were two shots. Loaders working nearby found him dead. The killers had disappeared.

Delays are dangerous. You should take out one of our Accident Insurance policies today. The premium on $1,000 is $1.25 a year. Dixon Evening Telegraph.

Display will be burdened with heavy impost of 126 pounds for Saturday's $2,500 feature at Hialeah. This is three more pounds than assigned to the South American Trotting champion, which was the sensation of the track last winter. The iron horse is said to be in excellent condition for his inaugural, working out a mile yesterday in 1:44 under wraps.

Already the holder of some sort of a traveling record, Display will take a few more miles onto his mark before going into retirement at Salmon's Mereworth Stud near Lexington, Ky. In his racing career he has traveled by train more than 20,000 miles.

DISPLAY, IRON HORSE, IS OUT FOR A RECORD

Will Try To Shatter All-Time Money Winning

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Miami, Fla., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Display, the iron horse of American turf, sets forth Saturday in a renewed attempt to shatter the all-time money winning held by the great Zev. The seven-year-old W. J. Salmon thoroughbred is slated to make his 1930 debut in the Miami Beach Handicap at Hialeah Park.

Should all go well in the Florida feature, Display will be shipped west for the richest prize of them all—the $100,000 Agua Caliente Handicap, run late in March. Pitted against the best of the winter racers, the son of Fair Play will have a golden opportunity to become the greatest money winning horse of American turf history.

More than $90,000 awaits the winner of the rich Mexican stake. Display closed the 1929 campaign with earnings in excess of $250,000 to move into second place. Zev piled up $313,639 for Harry Sinclair's Ramocast Stable before going into retirement. A simple problem of addition show at a glance where Display will end up—if he wins.

To pass such great money winners as Man O'War, Exterminator, Sarazen and Crusader, the grand old horse of the turf faced the barrier 99 times. He first to the finish line on 23 occasions, second 25 times and third 26. In six other races he wound up fourth and got paid for it—only 19 times out of the money or 25 times unplaced. His last victory was in the Baltimore Handicap at Pimlico in which he beat such topnotchers as Misstep, Dr. Freeland and Sun Edwin.
